

Faith, Clarity, Rigor

Would You Like to Join the CT Research Team?

The Purpose:

- To assist in research for the Classical Theism Podcast through the study of articles, books, podcasts, and videos. The CT Research Team will help plan for high quality interviews, blog posts, and rebuttals related to classical theism, philosophy, theology, and apologetics.
- We aim to conduct research in faith, toward clarity, and with rigor.

What am I looking for?

- People 18 years of age or older who exhibit the following:
 - Competency in reading and listening to philosophical, theological, or apologetic works.
 - Proficiency in writing, especially when it comes to summarizing ideas and outlining.
 - Deep interest in apologetics, philosophy, and/or theology from a Catholic perspective.
 - Desire for intellectual virtue.
 - Obedience to the Catholic magisterium.

What's expected of you?

- Complete your training in February 2022 and begin in March 2022. Prior to March 2022, all of the details and expectations will be clearly discussed and sent to you in writing so that you understand your commitment.
- Examine articles, book chapters, podcasts, and other content.
- Assist in planning interview questions, blog posts, show notes, and rebuttals.
- Attend the CT Research Team meeting once per month (30-minutes).
- Commit to 60-90 minutes of effort per week.

What's in it for you?

- 1) Self-improvement and intellectual growth.
 - You will read and explore a treasure trove of philosophical, theological, historical, or apologetic topics, contemplating deep truths related to God and creation.
- 2) Experience for your future.
 - If you are interested in working in apologetics either full-time or as a part-time endeavor, you will hone important skills to be used throughout your life.
 - Also, you can list the CT Research Team on a resume and/or enlist me to write a recommendation based on your work for the research team.
- 3) Cross-promotion opportunities.
 - If you have your own blog, book, podcast, or YouTube channel (or something else) related to apologetics, I will promote it on the podcast/website to send listeners/readers your way.

How can you join?

- Complete the application at this link: www.classicaltheism.com/research
- Submissions are due by Tuesday, January 11.

Research in faith, toward clarity, with rigor.
